It's listed on the ASX and is expected to announce a purchase of Macquarie Telecom assets today. But the ASX's listing rules state that its companies will not be able to acquire any other Australian businesses for a year. Credit:AAP TPG is an international law firm and their services are well known in our global tech community. We expect no disruption to TPG's service and this is why we believe that this acquisition will be of great benefit to Macquarie Telecom and its customers. Nick Bibby, Chief Executive Officer of Macquarie Group, on Tuesday denied the Macquarie Telecom deal was being done to buy a cybersecurity firm. "I will make no comment about it, because it's an ASX listing. This is a well-known firm," he said. "We are basically very comfortable with the way the process has gone. TPG worked on both sides of the Aussie deal. Macquarie Telecom was advised by AIQ. TPG and Macquarie Telecom, now owned by TPG, worked as joint
